

Bass – Dan Berg

As you may have guessed from the icon, Dan and drummer Jeff Owens first formed their formidable rhythm section as toddlers in Dr. Teeth's Electric Mayhem. Known back in the day as Floyd, Dan has since shed his purple skin and facial hair (unless we are in a pandemic) along with his hippie roots to become the bedrock of Fairfield County's finest rhythm section. A little known fact is that he also took a lesson or two from Dr. Teeth and Geddy Lee, and so holds down not one but TWO instruments in Vertigo by tickling the ivories on some of Vertigo's finest work.
